E. SESSION SUMMARY:

AV IMPRESSION: The target is contained within, or surrounded by, a large walled-in or fenced-in feature.

The target consists of four features or components which appear different in size. One group consists of 3 of the components while the fourth component occurs by itself but is within the target vicinity. There is shaped stone, metal supports and interlaced or connected wooden objects.

Portions of the target give a sense of carving, or having been carved out. The concept of statues occurred several times during the session. There is a lot of exposed rock here.

There is a sense of height and an interconnectedness with the natural surroundings. The components of the target have a "layered" appearance. There is a sense of a relationship to energy (wind/water related); changing one form of energy into another form. There is a sensation of being perched or suspended above the surroundings (again). There is a feeling of easy flowing water.

There is the concept of a religious or patriotic orientation to the target. In fact, it feels like a combination of both at times. There is also a monetary orientation to this target. At one point during the session, an overwhelming spiritual aspect was felt. There is a stone or carved rock animal's head reminiscent of a goat or a cow.
